Hands-on workshop on "Practical Machine Learning for Real World Applications"

On behalf of the CSE-AIML association, ARTIFEX organized a hands-on workshop on "Practical Machine Learning for Real World Applications" on 26/04/2025 at 9:30 in room A423. The event began with an inspiring inauguration by Dr. Chanchal Antony, who emphasized the growing role of machine learning across industries. Mrs. Ramya P M delivered the welcome speech, highlighting the objectives of the workshop and encouraging active participation from students. The workshop was expertly handled by Dr. Vijesh K, Associate Professor and HOD, Department of MCA, who provided deep insights into machine learning concepts with practical, real-world applications. Participants had the opportunity to engage in live exercises and discussions, enhancing their understanding and skills. The session was highly interactive and informative, bridging the gap between theory and practice. Mr. Sharad Shandhi Ravi delivered the vote of thanks, expressing sincere appreciation to the chief guest, resource person, faculty, and students for contributing to the success of the event.
