About the Program:

The students were given a brief introduction on the following topics

The following courses were discussed by the participants

VEGSHELL, is a one stop solution for variety of agricultural products. The core objectives lie's in offering grocery and agricultural products to customer at a greater value, on being the lowest price retailer. We also aim to provide farmers with knowledge for increasing their yield, efficiency and create a community for them.

After the course the following quests were discussed

The practicality of the project, how much direct benefit could the farmers get how much of the actual problem faced by the farmers is the project solving, challenges we would face implementing the project and the further plan for the development of the project.

Objectives:

The main objective of this project is to provide support to farmers by removing the middlemen, giving farmers the price, they deserve, educating them regarding the high margin crops and building a community for them.

Outcomes:

The outcome of this project would be that farmers need not wait for a week to get their payment, they need not travel long distance or heir someone to reach the apmc set up by the government, learn about how they could reduce their wastage, increase their yield, and also share their problems and get solution to it from their farmers community.
